

Whether it's a piece of clothing or a pair of beautiful leather shoes, when you see a label or stamp that says "Made in Italy" you know you're buying quality. From design through to manufacture, everything is done with style and flair to create a marriage of form and function. With the transformation of manufacturing and the advances of technology Italy has emerged as a world leader in the industry, producing stunning results in furniture design.

It is the importance of the kitchen in bringing together family and friends and as a place to entertain which pushed us to create Made in Italy, giving everyone the ability to have beautiful finishes and superior quality at an affordable price. Based in Melbourne we distribute products from CucineLube, the largest manufacturer in Italy, prized by their efficient production and streamlined processes.

Through our local team we provide a complimentary design service and either work directly with you or in tandem with interior designers and architects to build the kitchen to exact specifications. All we need are the measurements or plans and we do the rest, liaising with the team in Italy to make sure when the kitchen is installed, it fits to the millimetre.

Whether you prefer classic styles or current European trends, the options and combinations are endless, but most importantly everything is built to last a lifetime. The kitchen may very well be the heart of the home, but we bring the soul. This is Made in Italy, the combination of function and beauty through design.
