Talisman Necklaces

SAGE collection

The Thunderbird is believed to rule the weather creating rain, wind, hail and snow and is important for agriculture and crops in a desert land. When the thunderbird is angry, it flashes lightning from its eyes and creates thunder with its massive wings.

This beaded necklace features a thunderbird pendant hand-carved by a First Nations Pueblo artisan.

One of a kind Handcrafted
Talisman Necklaces

One of the most spiritual stones, Turquoise facilitates communication between the physical and the spiritual realms, enhances psychic abilities, amplifies intuition, and brings insight and wisdom.

Turquoise increases deeper awareness and helps you find your purpose and your true life path in this world.

Holding a special significance in Native American culture and the First Nations people, Turquoise has a specific meaning to individual tribes. The Navajo people speak of a goddess named Estsanatlehi (or Changing Woman), who is known for being adorned with turquoise. The stone also has a reputation for bringing good fortune and used to protect against evil and harm.

EARTH ANGEL collection

For the earth angels among us, this handcrafted sterling silver ring is made for you. Two beautiful angel wings embrace a large natural flashy blue Labradorite oval gemstone.

Labradorite is a spiritual stone said to assist in transformation while aiding the body and spirit in healing itself. As one the most powerful protectors it creates a shield for auras and protects against negativity of the world, soothing the negativity within ourselves as well. Labradorite relates to the throat chakra.

For quality and durability, the band width is 5mm. Front of ring is approximately 20mm wide x 25 mm long.

As is the nature of natural gemstones, no two Labradorite stones will be the same and will have different tones of blue ranging from mid to dark blue and natural striations.

WARRIOR WOMAN collection

The warrior woman archetype is one of society's protectors and stands up for the values they believe in. Independent and adventurous their spirit is focused on their vision.

My latest original design harnessing the energy of the warrior woman in a solid sterling silver shield design featuring a choice of four hand cut vintage gemstones- Rhyolite, Malachite, Rhodonite and Carnelian.

The Celtic knot symbol for protection sits above with a contemporary sturdy oval sterling silver chain that can be shortened at any point, with the longest length 50cm.

SHAKTI collection

SHAKTI collection

Shakti is the Mother Goddess of feminine energy, universal life source and creativity providing strength, restoring balance and power.

The Shakti Cuff Bangle is handcrafted and forged from recycled Sterling Silver 925 with an oxidised finish that highlights the brilliance and diamond cut of each stone. The seven chakras from Root Chakra to Crown Chakra are represented. A Grade semi-precious natural stones of Citrine, Iolite, Blue Topaz and Green, Lemon and Smoky Quartz have been sourced responsibly and ethically for positive energy.

The Shakti Chakra ring is available in the Heaven and Earth stone choices

For grounding, creative and supportive energy the Earth Ring has the three chakras represented from Root (Smoky Topaz), Sacral (Citrine), and Solar Plexus (Lemon Quartz).

For clarity, communication and wisdom the Heaven option with Throat Chakra (Blue Topaz), Third Eye Chakra (Iolite) and Crown Chakra (Amethyst).

I am Tri Ana, an Australian Designer, Silversmith & Usui Reiki Master, with an ethos of sustainability and a love of nature. I believe in quality rather than quantity and each of my talismans is a one-of-a-kind handcrafted creation and limited editions are handmade in small slow batches using artisan techniques. Premium semi-precious stones are responsibly sourced by me from select ethical suppliers and recycled sterling and fine silver is made from reclaimed silver.

Legend has it that Alchemists practiced an ancient science of converting base metals into precious metals of silver and gold. As an Alchemist Archetype and a trained energy practitioner I love the process of transformation and creating positive change. My designs are inspired by the archetypes and through them we can discover different aspects of who we are and evolve as we express ourselves. Are you the Goddess, Sage, Earth Angel, Warrior Woman or Queen? Each symbol will have personal meaning and created to empower you on your path of self-discovery. Thank you for joining me on my journey and allowing my talismans to be part of yours.
