Get sorted before talking to a builder.

If you want to build a home truly unique to you, at a guaranteed competitive price, with high quality workmanship, then you need to be talking to us at My Build Sorted.

We're an independent, unbiased building brokerage service designed to partner you, our valued home-building client, with the perfect builder.

At My Build Sorted we have your best interests at heart. We know that one size certainly doesn't fit all.

Our partnership with a great network of building professionals and quality suppliers means we can ensure you will receive a strong and effective service, with improved energy efficiency options available. Our comprehensive market knowledge also means we can help you make an informed decision.

Independent

We're brokers, not builders, and we work for you.

Unbiased

Benefit from our extensive knowledge and honest advice.

Transparent

No hidden costs, no nasty surprises.

Three simple stages

To keep things simple, we've broken our process down into three stages. To help you understand what these stages mean, they can be broadly defined as planning, design and build.

01 Planning

From an initial meeting where we can learn about each other, through to building a realistic timeline for delivery of your new home project.

We establish your build budget and discuss finance requirements.

02 Design

This stage begins with meeting and briefing your independent home designer and selecting your interior specification with your personal Build Sorter.

Whether we design your home in-house or find an external designer, you can be assured of a quality design that meets your individual requirements.

03 Build

We help you to select your independent builder and commence construction. We visit your site regularly to assess progress.

Pack your bags,
it's moving day...
your build is sorted.
