Fresh Water

At the heart of Halo Swim Spas is fresh water - a testament to our Australian roots and the high-quality resources with which we are blessed.

As Australia's first fresh water swim spa company, we firmly hold the belief that your swim spa experience should be defined by purity and tranquillity. With the introduction of the revolutionary chemical-free Sanitisation System, we're changing the game in swim spa water sanitation. This system harnesses the power of silver and copper ions to eliminate bacteria and algae, thereby preserving water in its purest state.

By purifying water to near-drinkable levels, we're doing more than just creating a healthier choice for families; we're providing a solution that is as gentle on the environment as it is on your skin. Through water conservation and reducing the need for chemicals, the chemical-free fresh water sanitisation system not only prolongs the longevity of your swim spa's mechanisms and plumbing, but it also minimises upkeep and saves you thousands of dollars on maintenance costs.

Halo Swim Spas stands proud as a pioneer in chemical-free swim spa sanitisation. We've taken away harsh substances like chlorine, peroxide and other sanitising chemicals. This allows you to bid farewell to irritating chemicals and unpleasant odours. With our unwavering commitment to your wellness, you can dive into a swim spa experience that's not only purer but infinitely more enjoyable.

*Estimated costs per year as per chemical manufacturer recommendations.

Optimised Efficiency

Halo embraces adaptability, designing swim spas with a deep appreciation for the varying climates and distinctive lifestyle we enjoy in Australia.

At Halo, energy efficiency isn't an afterthought; it's a cornerstone of our design philosophy. Key to this, our innovative HeatLock™ insulation encapsulates the fibreglass shell of your swim spa, working in perfect harmony with our ThermaLock™ R1.8 Insulation that lines the frame.

Together, this dynamic duo forms a thermal stronghold, ensuring maximum heat retention during chilly winters and a refreshing coolness when the temperature soars.

But we didn't stop there. Our elevated thermal base takes insulation to new heights, boasting an advanced design that helps your swim spa maintain the perfect temperature for longer, conserving energy all year round.

More than just insulation, we've integrated an intelligent control system that synchronises with ultra-quiet, economical circulation pumps.

This clever system optimises filtration cycles, utilising energy exactly when necessary, without a compromise on performance.

When you choose Halo Swim Spas, you're not only embracing luxury; you're making a conscious choice for a more sustainable future.
