Merkaba

Merkabas have been around for thousands of years.

Sacred geometry as we know it has been around since at least the dawn of civilisation.

Early scholars have drawn comparisons in nature to the creation of geometric and sacred building block shapes.

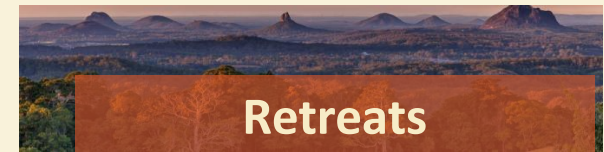

Why in our house / office?

Anything we can introduce to our immediate environment that will contribute positively to the energetic vibration has to be a good thing.

Assisting in reducing negative energy by providing a protective shield and supporting meditative state.

Merkabas enhance any grid work already in place.

Previous Practitioner retreat feedback held in Country Victoria.

"Emma is a very special teacher. Her energy & passion literally bubbles with excitement and is contagious. Her unique ability to see the treasures and divine in the everyday moments has helped immensely. I am so grateful to have the opportunity to work in a small group environment online late in the evening when it works into my busy life. So grateful!" NZ

"Loved the feedback and practice with other members of the group, have already recommended others to undertake Life Symmetry's programs." VIC

"Excellent practitioner program. I really enjoyed working with the ladies and I enjoyed the structure, location and the flow of Day 1 and 2. Emma's energy is amazing, I really enjoyed the experience of putting the learning into practice in a safe environment. I wished it could have gone on for another day! I would thoroughly recommend this program." NZ

"What has this weekend done for me?"

It has shown me that I have entered a point in life where some real, major transformations have already happened, Being someone who never had any idea of what my true gifts are, the pieces that I have been seeing for a long time are slowly coming together now. I saw "what is to come" through several visions that gave the same message and I believe it with my full body and I have openly received it as my "truth to come" already." VIC
