About Me

Creating beautiful
handmade ceramic pieces that are unique and made with love.

Carys draws inspiration from nature, folklore and rituals. Her designs vary from practical, functional everyday art to statement pieces. Carys originally trained as a printmaker and this often shows through in the detail of the surface decoration. She is drawn to contrasts and moments in time where different cultures overlap. You will find raw clay surfaces contrasting with a shiny, smooth glaze finish or highly decorated surfaces alongside negative space. The inspiration behind many of her pieces stems from growing up in a remote Cumbrian hamlet, where relics, stories and folklore were commonplace.

Carys completed her Art degree BA(Hons) studying in the UK and USA. She has exhibited in solo and group exhibitions in the UK, USA and Australia and has taught art classes in the UK and Australia.

Workshops and Classes

We believe that the things you surround yourself with should bring you joy and have worth. They should have meaning and soul, and a story to tell. Come and take a class in our Cleveland Studio and share the love of ceramics. Learn new skills and take some time out to connect with your creativity, fall in love with clay and all it has to offer. Creative catch ups with friends, groups and individuals all welcome. No previous experience necessary.

View the website for available classes and workshops.
