About the Author

Meet Karyn Connors, a passionate advocate for children's education and a gifted artist whose debut literary venture, 'Kitty and I,' beautifully intertwines her love for storytelling and art. With an extensive career in early childhood education and as a dedicated business owner of a children's centre and training organisation, Karyn brings a wealth of experience and understanding of the importance of nurturing young minds.

'Kitty and I' takes readers on a heartwarming journey, told from the unique perspective of the Assistance Dog, Raffy, providing an insightful and compassionate exploration of the impact of anxiety on the endearing character, Kitty, and the invaluable support provided by her loyal Assistance Dog. Through vibrant and evocative illustrations that showcase Karyn's innovative approach, this captivating book not only entertains but also educates, promoting a meaningful message about the significant role of Assistance Dogs and their dedicated handlers.

Karyn's passion for art shines through the pages of 'Kitty and I,' where her artistic evolution, from acrylic paintings to the innovative fusion of montage and mixed media, breathes life into the enchanting visuals that accompany the heartfelt narrative. With a keen eye for capturing intricate emotions and a sincere connection with children, Karyn's debut work is a testament to her unwavering dedication to creating engaging, informative, and emotionally resonant stories.

As she embarks on this exciting literary journey, Karyn eagerly anticipates sharing further tales of her adventures with Raffy, her Assistance Dog, demonstrating her commitment to uplifting and inspiring young readers through the power of storytelling and art.
