"Meals are packaged in easy to use bags and filled with all the nutrients Loui needs and made with the freshest ingredients, it's hard to fault this local business."

– Loui's Mum

"I was preparing Hunter's meals for him to help with his kidney and liver disease. It became a little too time consuming so we tried Wolfit. It's saved me time and the results have been amazing."

– Hunter's Mum

"Archie was a very picky eater and suffered skin allergies. Wolfit has been exactly what he needed, we now have a very happy, healthy pug without spots on his face!"

– Archie's Dad

PRODUCT COMPARISON SHEET

There's a great deal of dog food options on the market these days and consumers are increasingly on the hunt for a better quality diet for their pets.

Consumers are moving to healthier food options for their pet as health issues such as obesity, allergies and other diseases continue to be prevalent in dogs. Many people make high quality food at home for their pets too because ready-made, human-grade food for dogs is not in supermarkets.. until now!

The product comparison tool shows the difference between Wolfit meals and a dog food roll that is commonly stocked in supermarkets.
