I cannot recommend Mel more highly. The Empowered Experience went beyond anything I could have ever imagined. Mel has this incredible ability to find you - and I mean the REAL you - the 'you' you attempt to hide from the world most days. The results are beyond belief. There on film is me at my silliest, a wee bit of reservedness and incredibly graceful images of my mastectomy scars. Mel found me and allowed my eyes and laugh to tell my story.

Mel's intuitive & kind nature allowed me to relax and be fully present within my own skin, celebrating my personal uniqueness from the inside out. Embracing the body I find myself in, imperfect and interesting, finding what I thought was lost, re connecting with my spirit, my joy & my resilience. Should I forget myself again, I now have these powerful images as reminders of how I felt in that moment - honest, raw & real.

My entire experience was definitely the start of something beautiful for me. I felt my self-confidence come back - how does she do that? Every single photo went beyond anything I could've ever imagined. Thank you for capturing parts of me that I haven't seen for a while. Thank you for capturing a person's inner beauty.
