

Intentional Jewellery

Handcrafted to inspire the healing of your mind, body & spirit.

At Kireiki, we believe that spirituality and crystal healing doesn't have to be overwhelming or intimidating – it can be a curiosity, a keen interest, a slow journey, or a learning process. It can be deep and devotional, or playful and light-hearted.

The power of gemstone jewellery is not tied to any specific practice or belief. Rather, it's personal and intimate, a form of self-expression and individual healing.

OUR STORY

The Kireiki brand was born in 2007 with the intention to craft meaningful and lasting pieces that help people to heal naturally. Our designs are deeply rooted in ancient wisdom reimagined in modern form.

Each piece is lovingly designed and thoughtfully handcrafted in Melbourne, Australia with the highest quality gemstones and metals. Not only is our jewellery aesthetically beautiful, but it also serves a higher purpose.

With one of the largest varieties of gemstones in Australia, each bracelet and necklace in our collections are infused with energetic healing properties. Some are best suited for abundance and prosperity, while others are better for love, relationships and harmony, or even protection and shielding.

The significance of our designs stems from the wearer's own private relationship with their jewellery. Our vision is to create timeless talismans that will be cherished forever, serving as a tactile reminder of your wildest dreams, hopes and intentions.

WHY CHOOSE KIREIKI JEWELLERY?

Wearing jewellery that's been handmade with intention is powerful. You can tap into the true healing nature of the gemstones and deeply connect with the energies of the earth.

We only use the highest quality gemstones chosen for their purity, colour saturation, clarity and depth of tone. Each piece is handcrafted with love, care and attention to detail.

Our jewellery is designed and crafted in Melbourne and shipped across the country. We're widely regarded as one of the leading suppliers of gemstone jewellery throughout Australia.

Gemstones are uniquely magical treasures cloaked in history. The gemstones in our jewellery collections hold dazzling stories about the past that can be passed down through the generations.

"Questions are diamonds you hold in the light. Study a lifetime and you see different colours from the same jewel. The same questions, asked again, bring you just the answers you need, the minute you need them."
