Intimacy Whisperer

My name is Pauline Ryeland and I'm passionate about people living full, vibrant, joyous, happy sexual lives.

I believe in sustainable relationships; ones that can stand the tests of time because you have a deep, intimate connection, have great communication and are great lovers!

Working with individuals and couples who are experiencing challenges with intimacy, sex, relationships and everything in between.

As well as working with couples who are still very happy but are looking for new ways to spice things up and wanting to learn new ways to connect deeper with each other.

Combining a unique blend of sexual education obtained from a variety of sexual teachings, add in some powerful coaching and together we can make the positive changes you desire.
